DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 23 and 25-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pare, Jr. et al. (US Patent No. 6,154,879).

As per claim 23, Pare, Jr. et al. disclose all the claimed features particularly:

An apparatus comprising:

A processing unit;

A communications unit, in communication with the processing unit, operable to transmit and receive information regarding a second account identifier for use in place of a first account identifier; and

A memory device connected to the processing unit, the memory device containing:

data representing a plurality of predetermined account identifiers, data representing a status for each of the plurality of predetermined account identifiers, and a program, adapted to be executed by the processing unit, to receive the second account identifier, with at least one of the plurality of predetermined account identifiers to identify one predetermined account identifier matching the second account identifier, and verify the second account identifier in accordance with the comparing step and the data representing the status of the one predetermined account identifier.

Applicant is directed to columns 4-25 of Pare, Jr. et al.

As per claim 25, Pare, Jr. et al. disclose all the claimed features particularly;

A method, comprising the steps of :

Providing a memory device containing

Data representative a plurality of predetermined account identifiers and

Data representing a status for each of the plurality of predetermined account identifiers;

Receiving a second account identifier for use in place of a first account identifier;

Comparing the second account identifier with the plurality of predetermined account identifiers to identify one predetermined account identifier matching the second account identifier; and

Verifying the second account identifier in accordance with the comparison step and the data representing the status of the one predetermined account identifier.

Applicant is directed to columns 4-25 of Pare, Jr. et al.

As per claim 26, Pare, Jr. et al. disclose all the claimed features particularly;

A method, comprising the steps of:

Receiving a plurality of second account identifiers at a memory device, each second account identifier being different from remaining second account identifiers; and

Verifying that each of the plurality of second account identifiers indicates a first account identifier, Wherein each of the plurality of second account identifiers comprises a second identifier for use in place of a first account identifier.

As per these claimed features, applicant is directed to columns 4-25 of Pare, Jr. et al.

As per claim 27, Pare, Jr. et al. teach the first account identifier and each account identifier respectively comprise sixteen digits. See figures 10 and 11 of Pare, Jr. et al.

3. Claims 16, 19 and 28-44 are allowable over the art of record.
